HOW WE WORK

Our salesperson works with potential clients to identify the needs and basic details specific to their project.

We collect information about the project and solutions which satisfy the client's needs. The salesperson in cooperation with Project Manager may ask for the assistance of our development staff.

Proposition for the project is ready and we discuss future works with the client.

Each project is unique. We create a team which will work on the project based on their knowledge and the requirements of the project.

Together with the client we create the schedule for the development of the project and set the milestones and key points.

We develop the project based off of our plan. We are flexible, so the development stage we talk to our client and show our progress, discussing any possible changes.
